

#2806

From: phillyintern1@cleanwater.org
Sent: Thursday, June 10, 2010 4:22 PM
To: IRRC
Subject: Chapter 95 - Waste water standards

To whom it may concern at the IRRC,
The Chapter 95 Waste water standards need to be passed. I realize "need" is a strong word, often mistaken for "want" in everyday conversation. But in this case, the standards, are a need. When I was younger, maybe second grade, I learned that there are 3 human needs: food, shelter, and water. The recent inflation of the natural gas industry here in PA threatens one of those needs, the need for water. When I drink water out of my faucet, I don't want to be drinking any sort of fracking fluid, the taste shouldn't remind me of fuel and the water should not make me sick. I have the right to clean water as a citizen of the United States and I urge you to approve these Waste Water Standards. I need them and so do the millions of people drinking water from the PA watersheds. Keep me and the rest of the generations that follow me healthy. Please.

Thank you.
Sincerely,
Chelsea Ardle
Northampton, PA 18067