Please note that we are very much in favor of INCREASED regulation and standards to protect our water supply. There really is great danger of chemicals seeping into the water supply and this needs to be highly regulated and inspected. We thank you for your efforts with this.

Regards,

James and Louise Biddick

The screenshot shows a website with a dark navigation bar containing links for Website, Bio, Latest News, State Forms, Photo Gallery, and Contact. Below the navigation bar is a white content area with a header "News You Can Use" and a sub-header "Share Your Comments on Marcellus Shale Issue". The main text discusses the importance of the Marcellus Shale issue and mentions that the Environmental Quality Board is inviting public comment on proposed regulatory changes to improve well safety and protect water resources. The text is partially cut off at the bottom.

oilfield-grade cement, and for using blowout preventers.

The new regulations will also require well operators to inspect all existing wells quarterly to ensure each is structurally sound, and report the results of these inspections to DEP. The amendments would also clearly define a drilling company's responsibility for responding to gas migration issues. You can see the proposed regulatory changes on the DEP website.

Submit Comments for Public Hearings

There are public hearings on this matter taking place in western Pennsylvania, but you do have an opportunity to have your voice and ideas heard by the board. The public comment period will remain open through Monday, Aug. 9.

By Mail

Please mail comments, suggestions or objections to the Environmental Quality Board, P.O. Box 8477, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8477 or to Rachel Carson State Office Building, 16th Floor, 400 Market St., Harrisburg, PA 17101-2301. Comments submitted by facsimile will not be accepted.

By E-mail

Comments may also be e-mailed before the deadline to RegComments@state.pa.us. A subject heading of the proposed rulemaking and a return name and address for any response to comments provided must be included in each e-mail.
