Cyber charter schools should not receive funding from a student's home district, if the student's home district provides a cyber option of their own for that student. If cyber charter schools are going to receive funding from the state or a public LEA, those cyber charter schools should be held accountable to the same levels of accountability and performance as the public LEAs. If they do not meet those standards, they should not be allowed to continue. Forcing traditional LEAs to fund cyber charter schools has seriously hampered the ability for those traditional LEAs to support those students they were created to serve.
