I never thought I would have my son do online charter school but Covid changed that! I always said okay he will go back after his first year when Covid and things get under control well he didn't . Charter school has taught him so much. He learned to read from not knowing how to read and he is taking a language all at 7 years old. His B&M school is so behind. When talking to other parents they all said I can't believe my son was already doing paragraphs learning this and that and those parents all have the same age kid and they are in same grade! Charter school teachers and staff show more love and show they wanna be there unlike the district !
